

The Momentum is FOR Rescission—and It's Increasing!

States Rescinding All previously passed Applications since 2000, without passing any new ones since.
2000	1	ID
2001	2	ND, UT
2003	1	AZ
2004	3	VA, SC, GA
2007	1	MT
2008	0
2009	2	WY, OK
2010	2	TN, NH
2011	0
2012	0
2014	0
2015	0
2016	1	DE
2017	3	MD, NM, NV
2021	2	CO, NJ
2022	1	IL
2023	1	OR
2024	1	NY
2525	4	WA, CT, CA, MA
*# of States that rescinded all applications since 2000 that haven't passed any new ones.	25
# of States rescinding all applications since 2016 that haven't passed any new ones.	13

States PASSING at least one application since 2000, after previously rescinding all applications.
2000	0
2001	0
2003	0
2004	0
2007	0
2008	1	LA
2009	0
2010	0
2011	1	ND
2012	1	NH
2014	2	TN, GA
2015	1	UT
2016	1	OK
2017	2	WY, AZ
2021	0
2022	1	SC
2023	0
2024	0
2025	0
*# of States that passed at least one app. since 2000 after rescinding all applications.	10
# of States that passed at least one application since 2016 after rescinding all applications.	4

*Since 2,000, there were 2.5 times more states that rescinded all applications on record, than new states (i.e., without applications) that passed an application.

** In the past decade, there were 3.25 times more states that rescinded all applications on record, than new states (i.e., without applications) that passed an application.